

2026 ACVIM North American Neuroscience (Brain Camp) Course Frequently Asked Questions

What are the plans for in-person Brain Camp course offerings over the next four years?

The ACVIM North American Neuroscience (Brain Camp) course takes place in person every 4 years. The 2026 course will be held in Mt. Pleasant/Charleston, South Carolina August 18-22, 2026, and the course will return to North America in 2030. In the years between the in-person North American courses, the ACVIM will offer on-demand content captured from the 2026 offering and may provide additional Brain Camp programming delivered virtually as it becomes available.

The European Brain Camp program takes place every 4 years, offset from the North American in-person courses. The next European Brain Camp is expected to take place in 2028.

I'm a resident/candidate of an eligible affiliate organization. How can I register for the 2026 ACVIM Brain Camp in-person course?

Before registering for the course, you will need to update your profile to ensure you receive accurate pricing and access. Click here to update the Affiliate Information and Type fields of your profile. As your account type, select “Non-ACVIM Candidate.” Please reach out to Learning@ACVIM.org if you have any questions.

What can I expect from the in-person 2026 ACVIM Brain Camp course?

The 2026 Brain Camp in-person course has been thoughtfully designed to provide attendees with an interactive learning experience and daily team-based competitions culminating in awards at the conclusion of the course, in addition to social events and networking opportunities to connect generations of neurologists from around the world. Attendees can expect a high-energy, supportive environment and to leave the course with not only deepened clinical knowledge, but connections to last a lifetime.

What is included with in-person 2026 ACVIM Brain Camp registration?

- Lecture proceedings and presentations
- Access to two pre-recorded lectures ahead of the in-person course
- Daily refreshments, snacks and lunch (Tuesday-Sunday)
- Daily breakfast (if staying at the host hotel)
- Light welcome reception

- Sponsored dinner (Sponsored by MedVet)
- Transportation between the host hotel and the off-site event
- Access to the on-demand course once available.

When will 2026 ACVIM Brain Camp on demand offering become available and what content will be included?

Content captured sessions from the in-person 2026 Brain Camp course are expected to become available in the Fall, with an expected launch timeframe of late September to mid-October. All sessions from the in-person course, with the exception of a tabletop session, will be captured for on-demand viewing. Registration for the on-demand delivery format is open now. All in-person registrants also receive access to the on-demand course once available. All registrants will receive communications from ACVIM when the course content is AAVSB approved for CE and available to access.

How long will I have to access the 2026 ACVIM Brain Camp on-demand content?

Brain Camp on demand will be available through the full two-year AAVSB RACE approval window, and we anticipate extending this window for an additional two years, with an expected sunset date in 2030.